

Case Study

Public Body

Our client receives many 'notifications' each year that trees on their land are damaging properties. The information provided is often missing key documents which can significantly change legal exposure to recovery cost claims.

Desktop Assessment

We have assessed many 1000's of subsidence claims and fully understand the significance of site investigation information. Our service provides a desktop assessment so the client knows if they are exposed to a recovery and what action they should take to any implicated trees.

5 Working Days

We do a desktop analysis of all available site investigations and provide an advisory letter within 5 days of instruction.

Cost: £295 (inc VAT)

"Tamla Trees have completely demystified the subsidence claims process."
